

Abrasives, Cleaners & Finishes

Abrasives

Choosing the right abrasive can be confusing because there are so many different abrasive types available. Some of the differences include the combination of backings, minerals and adhesives used during the manufacture of the products. The most important thing to do before choosing is to properly diagnose the job requirements and understand which product will do the job correctly and efficiently. The shape, size and nature of the workpiece and the desired finish will influence the choice of the abrasive used. As a general rule, use the coarsest grit abrasive you can, providing it will give you a satisfactory finish. If working from coarse abrasives up through to finer grades, avoid missing out some of the intermediate grades as you will not remove the scratch pattern left by the coarser grades. We stock a wide range of abrasive types in sheet and disc form and whatever your requirements, we are likely to stock a suitable product for your chosen task. With each abrasive type, we offer an explanation of suitability for various applications.

To achieve the best results, choose the correct abrasive for the job, keep the face clean and free cutting, don't use excessive pressure, and where appropriate, use a lubricant.

The Ultimate Abrasive

RB406 J-Flex is one of the most efficient fast cutting abrasives available to you whatever your skill or need. Cloth backed and exceedingly flexible with aluminium oxide grit to do the cutting with grits ranging from 80 to 600.

Made popular with woodturners because although it has a tough J weight cloth backing and superb resistance to high temperatures, RB406 has tremendous flexibility, enabling fracture free folds to access very tight corners and can easily be re-sized into suitable strips when required. This versatile abrasive can also be lubricated with oil or water to aid a finishing cut if required.

RB406 J-Flex was originally conceived to refine and polish exotic metals for industrial production processing in exacting environments such as the aircraft industry, where there is a need to polish very tight radii. Additionally the product was developed to resist high friction temperatures and the blunting effects of 'capping' (when swarf welds itself to the abrasive grain).

So whether you are working in wood or metal, RB406 is one of the essentials for a fine finish and the answer to stock removal in awkward difficult-to-get-at places. Now available in 1 or 10 metre rolls.

Hermes Velcro Backed Multi-Hole Abrasive Roll

Hermes Multi-Hole Abrasives - the abrasive which keeps the dust where it should be - away from you! Developed to give you the most effective dust removal for your sander when connected to a vacuum extractor.

Specially produced, the abrasive has a sacrificial calcium stearate coat, similar to the flour on a cook's rolling pin, to prevent dust and resins sticking to and clogging the grit. In use the coating along with the contaminants falls away gradually to prevent clogging and the associated heat build up and blunting of the abrasive.

Multi-hole means you don't have to align holes with your machine and the abrasives will fit all machines using a Velcro hook style attachment. Multi-hole discs now feature a continuous edge to eliminate scratching and break out.

Hermes Self Adhesive Abrasive Film

Bulk discount available!

The use of abrasives for sharpening hand tools is becoming increasingly popular and due to the very sharp edges produced it is often referred to as "scary sharpening". We are pleased to say that we have now sourced a very versatile and durable abrasive film which is excellent for this application. Simply peel off the backing and attach the abrasive to a known flat surface, such as piece of float glass or granite surface plate and then by using a honing guide excellent results can be obtained. The Aluminium Oxide resin bonded abrasive, which is available in a range of grits can be lubricated with either oil or water and it is also great for flattening the soles of bench planes. Makes a great non-slip surface for jig making and for sharpening carving tools, simply wrap some around a profiled block of timber and you can get a great edge on those too.

Belt Cleaning

Abrasive Belt & Disc Cleaners

Increase the useable life of abrasive belts and discs with these special abrasive cleaners. All too often discs and belts are thrown out once they are heavily clogged up with resinous deposits but the abrasive is hardly worn. Simply apply the cleaning stick gently to the moving abrasive and it cleans the belt almost like new. Available in two sizes: Standard 210 x 40 x 40mm, and Large 300 x 50 x 50mm.

Handy Abrasive Belt & Disc Cleaner

A new variation on an old theme, a 100 x 40 x 40mm belt cleaner mounted on a handle for safe and convenient two-handed operation. There is a hole at the end of the handle for hanging it on a nail by the sander. "Can't find the cleaner" is no longer a valid excuse for not keeping the belt clean.

Microplane Rotary Shaper

Enjoy shaping with precision and control on wood, plastic, plasterboard, rubber and more instead of coarse sandpaper. Hundreds of razor sharp mini teeth in the form of a drum, for use with a power drill. Microplane blades are made from 400 series stainless steel and have been fitted to an aluminium extrusion which is provided with a 8mm shank. The beauty of this method of shaping is the resulting waste, which is tiny shavings rather than dust, and the superior finish left by a tool that cuts rather than scrapes, tears or abrades, creating clouds of dust. Recommended to run at between 1,000-2,000rpm and not exceed 2,500rpm. The Rotary Shapers rotate clockwise. Materials being fed into the shaper should be fed left of centre to reduce kickback. Available in two sizes 25mm(1") or 50mm(2"), with replacement blades available for both.

Rustins Strypit New Formula

A new formulation of an old favourite, Rustin's Strypit New Formula contains a key ingredient which works by penetrating through existing paint or varnish and lifting it from the substrate. It is of high viscosity for use on vertical surfaces and it will remove multiple layers of paint. The application of Strypit New Formula is best by using a brush and generally two coats will be required. The first coat is absorbed by the top layer of paint lifting it away from the surface and the second coat which should be applied after 10 minutes breaks up the blistered surface and applies new strypit to the remaining layers. Bright orange in colour, it is easy to see where it has been applied and 1litre will cover approximately 5 square metres.

Wudfil Repair Filler

Colour matching stoppings and wood fillers has always been difficult. Most are pre-coloured, taking their names from the type of timber they most closely resemble. This is fine, except that the great beauty of wood is its vast variation in colour - life would be easy if all trees of a particular species grew to a uniform and consistent shade, but it would also be very much less interesting! Wudcare Repair Filler is the solution. Made for professionals this two part (filler and hardener) filler dries to a neutral creamy colour ready to be stained. Hardening takes approximately ten minutes. Once hardened or cured, Wudcare is easily sanded smooth. Its other great advantage is its ability to take a sharp edge without crumbling, making it the best choice for filling on an edge where a corner needs to be reformed. Tried, tested and wholly recommended by Axminster.

Liberon Wax Filler Sticks - 50g

These sticks, in a range of 14 different shades, are the modern equivalent of the traditional cabinetmaker's Beaumontage. They are very easy to use, simply shave a small piece off, soften it by kneading between the fingers and then press into the crack or hole. Leave for a few seconds to harden and then either shave off any excess with a scalpel or buff the excess away with a cotton cloth. Large cracks can be filled by running the wax in using either a hot knife to melt or Wax & Polish Remover to soften the stick. On no account use a naked flame. Colour description is for guidance only, if you can't find a colour, they can be mixed. Supplied as individual sticks.

Brummer Rub-In Grain Filler - 300g

Rub-in Grain Filler is a unique dry powder filler which is mixed with water to form a paste. Worked into the timber surface it is specially formulated to smooth out rough and open grain surfaces, reducing the amount of sanding and with real economies in the amount of varnish or other surface coating required to develop a blemish free full grain finish quickly. Not to be confused with stopping / filler for holes, grain filler is designed to disappear into the background, blending into the timber without masking the beauty of your grain figure. Brummer-Rub in Grain Filler provides all the benefits of the traditional grain filling method but eliminates the lengthy and messy process. Supplied in colours to blend with your wood, they can be intermixed one with another or with a compatible stain to colour and fill the timber in one stroke. Supplied in a 300g tub.

A clear easily sanded sealer, containing a high proportion of shellac. Slower drying than cellulose it is easier to apply to large areas, not such a problem to keep a wet edge. More suited to cabinetmaking, it also has special additives to prevent the shellac forming a hard lump in the bottom of the bottle. Use to seal prior to French polishing or applying fine paste wax.

Liberon Spirit Based Sanding Sealer

This spirit based sanding sealer can be used on all types of new or stripped wood, including turned work. Sanding sealer forms the basis of one of the easiest and most effective finishes. After staining (if necessary) apply a coat of sanding sealer, when dry lightly sand the surface with 240 or 320 grit paper. Remove any dust and apply a second coat. When this is dry apply wax using a pad of 0000 steel wool, buff with a polishing brush or soft cloth. The finished piece will have that lovely waxed glow and the sealer will prevent the ingress of dirt and grease into the timber.

A tough high performance acrylic varnish that produces a surface that feels like a traditional soft wax polish, beautifully silky to the touch.

Not only that, available in a range of colours, it has a high resistance to heat and moisture and can be used on all sorts of timber projects inside and outside the home. When we tried it on newly sanded pine not only did it produce a wonderful silky touch but the clear version had so little influence on the colour you hardly knew it was there until you stroked it - you won't appreciate how good it is until you try it. Try mixing it with emulsion paint and use it as a colour wash for some great effects.

Rustins Clear Plastic Coating

Universally accepted as one of the toughest finishes available. Something akin to liquid formica, it is a 2 part cold cure finish which dries chemically after the addition of a hardener. It has a high solids content thus giving a high build per coat. It can be used on a variety of surfaces but not on metal or over paint. It can be brushed, applied with a roller or sprayed. There is no tougher finish for kitchen worktops, bar tops, tables or anywhere subjected to heat, solvents, water spillage etc. Plastic coating dries clear and glossy and can be left as such or given a satin finish by rubbing down with 0000 steel wool, matt by using zero steel wool or brought to a high gloss mirror finish using burnishing cream, when it resembles a French polished surface but with none of the disadvantages in upkeep. For wooden or cork floors a special type F plastic coating is available to beautify and protect your floor. See Floor Finishes section for Floor Plastic Coating. (Coverage 1litre to 15m<sup>2</sup>. Reaches maximum heat and solvent resistance after 5-7 days).

Chestnut Melamine Lacquer

This finish will give protection against both heat and water. It can be used alone or, for better results, over a cellulose based sanding sealer. Several thin coats provide a superior finish. Quick drying due to cellulose base. The melamine dries to a gloss finish and can then be matted using 0000 Steel Wool, or brought to a gloss by applying wax with a pad of 0000 Steel Wool and buffing to a shine. If brushes are used clean in cellulose thinners.

Chestnut Acrylic Lacquer

A hardwearing water based lacquer, a good alternative to solvent based products. It dries to a very high gloss. Whilst drying, the resin components cross-link to form a coating which is actually tougher than Melamine Lacquer. Apply with brush or roller, allowing two hours between coats. We recommend the use of acrylic sanding sealer first to give a smooth base on which to build the lacquer.

When you want to retain the colour and detail as it is and just bring out the full effect of the grain, White Polish will do the job perfectly. ## Liberon Button French Polish

Probably the hardest and most resistant of the French polishes. Imparting a warm golden brown colour to the host timber from its orangey red colour cast. However, applied too thickly the solid content of the finish can mask some of the grain figure detail. An excellent all-round polish for new and restoration work.

Liberon Garnet French Polish

This strong coloured French polish will enhance the richness of dark timbers such as mahogany, walnut, and will produce a beautiful warmth on oak. One of the polishes preferred by restorers because the slight green colour cast modifies the gingery redness of new dark woods with the refraction of a more acceptable brown. Do be aware of runs and thick build-ups. Apply in thin even coats and pick up any runs as you go.

Strongly pigmented, this shellac polish will produce an opaque black surface suitable for new and restoration work requiring an ebonised finish. Many fine pianos have been given a new lease of life with a smart new coat of black polish when their original has become dilapidated. Applied in the same way as all other French polishes by 'mop' or 'rubber' it can be built to a mirror finish or used on an open grain oak for an interesting textural surface.

Rustins Danish Oil

Many timbers benefit from an oil finish which, unlike the surface coatings of a polish or wax finish, is absorbed by the pores of the timber and subsequent coats bond molecularly with the previous coat to produce a finish which starts underneath the surface. Danish Oil dries to a satin finish. Three coats are recommended and can be further enhanced by the application of a little paste wax or woodturning stick. Coverage: 1 litre to 12 - 15m<sup>2</sup>. Drying: approximately 6 hours. Although it is stated on the tin that this product can be used for interior and exterior applications, we have found that it is better suited to interior use only.

Liberon Finishing Oil

A blend of high quality oils, resins and dryers. A most dramatic demonstration of the qualities of this finish was given by Jan Sanders who, having turned a small oak bowl, applied three coats of finishing oil, allowed it to dry and then poured a quantity of blue water based wood dye into the bowl. After gently swilling it around, Jan poured the dye out and wiped the bowl dry. Needless to say no trace of the dye could be detected on the inside of the bowl. This oil will give good resistance against water, alcohol and food acid marks and will give a matt to satin finish dependent upon the number of coats. A gloss can be achieved by applying a paste wax. Also approved safe for toys. Coverage: 1 litre to 8 - 12m<sup>2</sup>. Drying: approximately 5 hours.
